

Chapter 8: Work and Retirement

1

Do older people want to retire?
Why or why not?

Want to retire:

- Represents freedom from the grind and time commitment of work
- Opens new chapter in life
- Work is physically demanding
- Doesn't feel as competent as in the past

2

Does NOT want to retire:
(currently roughly 20% who are 65+ are in the labor force, up from 17% in 2010)

- Not working goes against the American work ethic
- Feel deprived of an important social role
- Needs the money
- Person's job is meaningful

3

What are some of the rationales behind a strong work ethic?

- In the 1800s the Christian belief in pre-destination encouraged hard work to gain wealth which then reflected God's favor and ones pre-destination to go to heaven.
- Hard work became a part of the Christian doctrine: "Idle hands are the devils work" It has a moral quality
- People gain personal satisfaction and pride from hard work

4

What about leisure for the elderly?
Is it frowned upon?

- Attitudes toward work and leisure have been changing (becoming more positive) w/regard to older persons perhaps because of:
 - increases in longevity,
 - Difficulty maintaining a physically demanding or technically demanding job
 - the need for older persons to retire so jobs are available for younger persons
 - Belief that older persons have earned leisure activities through their life of hard work

5

Do businesses want older workers to retire earlier rather than later?

Reasons for earlier:

- Younger workers are less expensive
- Younger workers have greater "vitality"
- Younger workers have more knowledge of new technologies
- The company's pension benefit program will be more solvent

6

Reasons businesses prefer their employees retire later:

- Older workers are more reliable
- Older workers may have a stronger work ethic
- Older workers are absent less
- Older workers may have more knowledge about the business
- May have more knowledge about the work

7

What do businesses do to encourage early retirement

- Pension plans that are paid in full even if retire early
- Offering bonuses or increased benefits for those who retire early
- Providing resources and counseling about the benefits of early retirement

8

What is the 1978 Age Discrimination in Employment Act and how effective is it

- A law prohibiting age discrimination such as firing an older worker to avoid paying them retirement benefits
- Difficult to determine: is it age discrimination or is it releasing higher paid workers, or those who no longer have needed skills, downsizing
- When all persons of a certain age are let go, this helps establish discrim. (an overall policy that fires older workers)
- Worker must prove discrim. occurred

9

What reasons do companies give for (or ways of) laying off employees, including older workers?

- Downsizing
- Restructuring
- Reengineering
- Outsourcing
- Reduction in force (e.g., no new hiring when an employee leaves)

10

What types of jobs are older workers most likely to be pushed out of?

- Physically demanding work (e.g., construction)
- Highly technical work that is constantly updating (e.g., engineers, scientists)
- Highly paid work, although the company could face discrimination charges

11

Do you know anyone who feels they were forced to retire?

Or, have you seen a case where it appeared someone was being discriminated against due to age?

12

What are some major adjustments that must be made once retired?

- ▶ For some, loss of power
- ▶ Lower income—possible financial problems
- ▶ Possibly less contact with people
- ▶ Avoiding withdrawal, depression
- ▶ Less physical activity

13

What can older workers do to prepare for retirement?

- ▶ Prior to retirement, create a retirement savings program such as annuities, IRA (individual retirement account)
- ▶ Attend sessions designed to help individuals prepare for retirement/address issues that will emerge in retirement
- ▶ Observe persons who have successfully adjusted to retirement (and those who haven't) and learn from them

Can you guess what the issue is when we focus on:
"the taxpayer versus retirement?"
(hint: it involves Social Security taxes)

- ▶ As long as older people are working they are paying into Social Security
- ▶ Once a person retires, they move from paying into SS to withdrawing SS funds
- ▶ To some extent, businesses that want their employees to retire early "butt heads" with the government

15

One study found 25% of persons who retired from full-time work took up new employment within four years.

Why might this be?

- ▶ Boredom from retirement
- ▶ Need more money than retirement is providing (e.g., low pensions and personal savings)
- ▶ Enticements from businesses that want part-time workers (e.g., high pay)
- ▶ Those with good pensions/financial situations tended to stay retired
